“How China is becoming a global innovator”

The Swiss–Chinese Association (SCA) was founded in 1945 by people from fields of science, politics and industry who were interested in China. SCA is one of the earliest associations in Switzerland which promotes friendly relations of people from both cultures. The focus of SCA activities is to create encounters for the people from the two countries and to spread the understandings of the different cultures.

The Swiss-Chinese Association aims to

- promote mutual understandings between Switzerland and the People's Republic of China
- cultivate and strengthen friendly relations between people from both countries
- consolidate the cooperation in fields like culture, science and economy.

Over the past three years, the Swiss-Chinese Association has received significant contributions from the following companies (in alphabetical order):
